KidsPod Terms of Use

Effective date: October 9, 2026

Welcome to KidsPod. These Terms of Use ("Terms") are an agreement between you and KidsPod Co. ("KidsPod," "we," "us"). They cover the KidsPod app, our website (kidspod.app), and our other services (together, the "Services").

By creating an account or using the Services, you agree to these Terms and to our Privacy Policy at kidspod.app/privacy-notice. If you don't agree, please don't use the Services.

1. Who can use KidsPod

- Accounts are for adults. You must be 18 or older to create an account. If you let a child use KidsPod, you agree to these Terms on their behalf and are responsible for their use.
- Keep your login safe. You're responsible for activity on your account. Let us know right away at info@kidspod.app if you think someone else has used it.
- Schools and libraries. If you use KidsPod through a school, library, or other organization, your organization's agreement with us also applies. If it conflicts with these Terms, the organization's agreement controls.

2. Free and paid plans

- Free plan. You can download KidsPod and listen for free.
- KidsPod+. Some features require a paid subscription. Current prices and features are shown in the app before you buy.
- Automatic renewal. Subscriptions renew automatically at the end of each billing period (monthly or yearly) at the price shown at purchase, until you cancel.
- Free trials. If your plan includes a free trial, you won't be charged until the trial ends. If you don't cancel before then, your subscription starts and you'll be charged.
- How to cancel. Cancel anytime in your Apple App Store or Google Play subscription settings. Cancel at least 24 hours before your renewal date to avoid being charged for the next period. You'll keep access until the end of the period you've paid for.
- Payments and refunds. Purchases in the app are processed by Apple or Google, and their terms apply. Refund requests go to them. If you have trouble, contact us and we'll help where we can.
- Price changes. If we change the price of your subscription, we'll tell you in advance, and you can cancel before the new price applies.
- Codes and promotions. Coupon codes, educator access, and promotions may have their own terms, have no cash value, and may expire or end. Educator access is for classroom and educational use.

3. Podcasts and content

- Who makes the content. Most podcasts and audiobooks on KidsPod are created by independent producers. They own their content. We choose which shows to include and work to keep KidsPod age-appropriate, but we don't create most of the content and can't guarantee every episode fits every family. You know your child best, so please listen along and choose what's right for them.
- Ads in podcasts. KidsPod doesn't sell or place ads. Some podcasts include their own ads or sponsor messages, which are the producer's responsibility.
- Personal use only. You may listen to content on KidsPod for personal and educational use. You may not copy, download outside the app, redistribute, sell, or publicly broadcast it.
- Changes to content. Shows and episodes may be added or removed at any time, including at the producer's request.
- Copyright concerns. If you believe content on KidsPod infringes your rights, email info@kidspod.app with the details and we'll review it promptly.

4. Using KidsPod responsibly

You agree not to:

- Break the law or use KidsPod for anything harmful
- Copy, scrape, or reverse engineer the app or its content
- Try to access accounts, systems, or data that aren't yours
- Interfere with or overload the Services, or upload anything harmful, like viruses
- Use KidsPod's name, logo, or content in a way that suggests we endorse you, without our written permission

We may suspend or close accounts that break these Terms.

5. Our rights

The KidsPod app, website, name, logo, and design belong to KidsPod Co. Podcasts and audiobooks belong to their creators. Using KidsPod doesn't give you ownership of any of it.

If you send us feedback or ideas, we may use them to improve KidsPod without owing you anything.

6. Changes to KidsPod and these Terms

We're always improving KidsPod, so features may change, and we may pause or discontinue parts of the Services. If we discontinue a paid feature, we'll tell you in advance.

We may update these Terms from time to time. If we make significant changes, we'll notify you by email or in the app before they take effect. If you keep using KidsPod after the changes take effect, you accept the updated Terms.

7. Ending your account

You can stop using KidsPod and delete your account anytime by emailing info@kidspod.app. Deleting the app doesn't cancel a subscription, so cancel it in your app store settings too. We may suspend or end your access if you break these Terms. Sections 5, 8, 9, and 10 continue to apply after your account ends.

8. Disclaimers

We work hard to keep KidsPod running smoothly, but the Services are provided "as is" and "as available." To the extent the law allows, we don't promise that the Services will always be available, error-free, or meet every need, and we disclaim all implied warranties, including warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose.

9. Limitation of liability

To the extent the law allows, KidsPod won't be liable for indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages, or for lost profits or data, arising from your use of the Services. Our total liability for any claim related to the Services is limited to the greater of the amount you paid us in the 12 months before the claim or $50.

Some places don't allow these limits, so they may not all apply to you. Nothing in these Terms limits rights you have under consumer protection laws that can't be waived.

10. Disputes

If you have a problem, please contact us first at info@kidspod.app. Most issues can be resolved quickly that way.

These Terms are governed by the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to its conflict of laws rules. Any legal dispute will be handled in the state or federal courts located in North Carolina, unless the law where you live gives you the right to bring a claim in your local courts.

11. Other terms

- If any part of these Terms is found unenforceable, the rest still applies.
- If we don't enforce a part of these Terms right away, we can still enforce it later.
- You can't transfer your account or these Terms to someone else. We may transfer them as part of a merger, acquisition, or sale of our business.
- These Terms, our Privacy Policy, and any terms shown at purchase are the full agreement between you and KidsPod about the Services.
